TRESTLEBOARD

VIEW FROM THE EAST By Mikel White, Worshipful Master

Greetings from the East,

Yuma Lodge

No. 17, F&AM

First I would like to congratulate Brother Mike Dale, PM, on becoming the new RW Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Arizona. He is doing Yuma Lodge #17 proud and the state of Arizona. His new travel schedule will be ready soon for brothers ready to assist him in his official travels around Arizona. We can't let RW Brother Mike Dale have all the fun by himself.

It is summertime and I hope you will spend time with your families and your travels will be safe. Just remember the line officers have homework still to finish up on. There is a test when you come back to Lodge in September. We will have candidates ready in September to continue their degree work, so be ready.

Everyone have a safe summer and see you in September.

Fraternally, Mikel K. White, PM Worshipful Master

VIEW FROM THE WEST

By Benjamin Hinderer

Good Day Brothers,

Recently many of the Yuma Lodge #17 Officers attended the Grand Communications for the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Arizona. It was my first time ever attending this event and I was pleasantly surprised with the attendance of all the different Lodges throughout the state. There were even current Grandmasters from three different states in attendance. This was something that caught me off guard but was a pleasant surprise.

The brotherly love that was present during this event was very evident. I created new friendships with many new brothers from around the state. We even planned on visits between different Lodges throughout the state.

One of our brothers was even ELECTED as the Right Worshipful Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Arizona. He has been my mentor and coach throughout my Masonic career and I have known him since my childhood. I would like to congratulate: RIGHT WORSHIPFUL MIKE A. DALE

I am looking forward to the future of Yuma Lodge #17 with all the new Masons that are being brought in. They all show a desire for knowledge and are seeking the mysteries of Freemasonry. I myself am still looking for many of the mysteries of Freemasonry. It is a long journey but definitely a journey worth taking.

Benjamin Hinderer Senior Warden

GREETINGS FROM THE SOUTH

By Douglas Arps, Jr.

Greetings from the Beauty and Glory of the day from the South,

I hope everyone is doing good and trying to stay cool. Now that we are in our summer weather it's pretty hot down here. Since it is hot we are now dark until September; Brothers, take advantage of this and spend time with your families and enjoy life.

The 139th Annual Communications of the Grand Lodge of Arizona was a great success. I've been going since I became a MM in 2017 but this was the first time I was able to carry a vote for Yuma #17. I was honored to do so. I would like to congratulate MWB Boyd Robertson on a great year dealing with what the Craft went through with the pandemic and congratulations to new Grand Master MWB Randy Jager with a hard "J". I can't wait to see where this year takes us. Now this is pretty cool – our own WB Mike Dale was elected Right Worshipful Junior Grand Warden of F&AM of the Grand Lodge of Arizona. Or as my youngest daughter calls him, "RW Papa". She, my other daughter, and my niece even made him a name badge.

I've had the pleasure to take part in giving out two 50-year pins to Brother Earl Roberts and WB Danny Heuton. It's pretty awesome to see 100 years of Masonry between two brothers. I also went to the Kingman Outdoor Degree, which was cool because I got to witness another Brother receive his 50-year pin too. At the same time of the Outdoor Degree, a few of our brothers were back home helping with the law enforcement memorial, passing out waters and showing support to fallen law enforcement officers. It's super awesome that we were able to help in anyway.

Now that our brothers in California are open and have no restrictions, I would like to try to visit them as much as we can. Some of us made it to their first stated meeting since COVID, which they had at their Brawley Lodge because it's bigger than their other Lodge and made it easier to social distance. I was glad to visit because when I used to work out of town over there I've always wanted to visit but was never able to.

While we're dark I will be running down to the Lodge here and there to work on projects to get our Lodge back to its beauty and glory. If anyone knows of anything that needs to be fixed or just ideas on improvements, please let me know and I'll look into it. You can reach me at (928) 503–9802 or email me at crimswrestling@gmail.com. If any brothers would like to work on degree work or anything I'm willing to work with you either at the Lodge, my house, or wherever is easy for you.

I'm going leave off with a little Masonic education. This comes from the book "The Meaning of Masonry" by W. L. Wilmshurst:

"'Initiation', for which there are so many candidates, little conscious of what is implied in that for which they ask what does it really mean and intend? It means a new beginning, a break-away from an old method and order of life and the entrance upon a new one of larger self-knowledge, deepened understanding, and intensified virtue. It means a transition from the merely natural state and standards of life towards a regenerate and super natural state and standard."

Brotherly Love, Douglas Arps, Jr. "DJ" Junior Warden

FROM THE SECRETARY'S TABLE By WB Michael Kofta, PM

Brothers and Sisters,

Grand Lodge was a huge success for Masonry in Arizona! Congratulations to Past Grand Master Boyd W. Robertson on a successful year of leading Masonry in an extremely difficult year for Arizona over the past year. Congratulations to our new MW Grand Master Randal S. Jager and best wishes for a successful year as well. Lest we not forget, congratulations to our newly elected RW Junior Grand Warden Michael A. Dale.

The results of the Grand Lodge legislation will be read at our stated meeting in September.

FROM THE SECRETARY'S TABLE (CONTINUED) By WB Michael Kofta, PM

There are still 9 Brothers that need to pay their dues for 2021. I will try to contact them again, over the summer.

If you have any information that needs to be updated in our Lodge database, please contact me so that I can update it. It is imperative that you update your information in Grandview so that our Lodge member information is accurate and up-to-date. If you make any changes in Grandview, please let me know. Grandview is the future, so please log in and update your information.

We have been doing a lot of Degree work! Please stay on top of your ritual and proficiency work over the summer so that we can continue our stride in the fall.

Looking forward to continued visits to other lodges and visiting Brethren from other Lodges to our own.

If you need any assistance in general or with practicing or on proficiency, feel free to contact me.

Fraternally, Michael A. Kofta, PM Lodge Secretary

A SPECIAL NOTE FROM MOST WORSHIPFUL BROTHER RANDY JAGER, GRAND MASTER OF MASONS IN ARIZONA

The Craft desperately needs a year of LIGHT to emerge from our recent years of darkness. During these years we rightfully made changes aimed specifically at the safety of our cherished members. But now we must break free from the habits of isolation and separation that we have acquired during this time, to protect the Craft itself. We are all called to be servants of the Craft...each and every one of us. We all have different abilities and talents, but that does not mean that any of us are less important to the overall recipe for success. As we emerge from our darkness we must focus on supporting a moral and upright example that we (each one of us) should be providing to society. I humbly offer you an acronym for this effort – L.I.G.H.T. Living in Grace, Honor, Truth. If we measure our actions each day by these principles, we focus on making ourselves the best Mason we can be. And with my theme for this year, I am calling for all of Arizona Masonry to Let Your L.I.G.H.T. Shine!

"God blesses him who helps his Brother." -Abu Bakr

MUSINGS FROM THE DESK OF THE JUNIOR GRAND

WARDEN

By WB Michael Dale

WHAT'S IT FOR?

A man dropped by our lodge and asked for a tour. During the tour, he informed me that his grandfather was a Mason, but not his father or himself. He was very curious about the decorations and asked several questions which I answered as best I could without revealing any "Masonic secrets." He finally asked about where he could go to get more information. I suggested some books for his reading, the internet, and we talked about Freemasonry for a little while longer. Then he asked me a question that caused me to do some quick thinking: "What's it for?" I am afraid that my reply was not satisfactory either to him or to myself. However, the question has stayed with me, and I decided to explore its implications. My purpose here is an attempt to suggest some possible answers to it.

Usually, in an attempt to determine the purpose of any organization, we try to go back to its beginnings, to discover, if possible, what motives prompted its founders, what conditions called it forth, and what the hopes of those who originated it were. Speculative Freemasonry, however, offers little opportunity for such research. The immediate foreground of our Masonic history is clearly discernable, but as we try to look into the distance, the outlines of events begin to blur, until they fade into a misty haze. Here and there, one will stand out like a distant mountain peak, but all details are lost. We do have some hints of what was done by our brethren during the time of transition from the Operative to the Speculative Craft; we have practically no clear indication of WHY they began to meet as non-operative Masons.

What were our ancient brethren seeking as they met in public taverns or as an occasional Lodge in a private home, without any governing authority to direct or control them, and with no material advantages to reward them? These were not mere illiterate laborers, for there were included among their number men of culture and learning whom, I feel, had more influence in shaping our Speculative Craft than we realize. It was a movement, which had no precise beginning; it came as a slow growth without any definite planning, and its purpose, if our brethren thought of it at all, was vague.

Research tells us that in Scotland, in the 17th and early 18th centuries, men who were not masons by trade joined Lodges of working or operative masons. In England, in that same period, the general practice seems to have been for men interested in Masonry to associate in non-operative Lodges, or Lodges of "accepted" or "adopted" masons. These groups in England included operative masons who were not concerned with the direction of the masons' trade. Men from many other trades and professions joined with them. A copy of the Ancient Charges was their Charter and their Constitution, but they had nothing to do with trade regulations or conditions of work. Neither, at that time, did they have any system of moral teaching based on symbolism, such as that which characterizes our modern Craft.

There must have been some other interest or need, which brought them together in fraternal association. It may have been the wish to share in a secret. Possibly an interest in architecture formed a common bond, as a knowledge of it was regarded as an essential part of a man's education. In part, it may have been the desire for a social society. Yet I feel there was something more, some groping in the hearts of men that, consciously or not, led them to seek this fellowship. Speculative Masonry was the product, not only of the centuries-old traditions of the Operative Craft, but also of the times in which it began to emerge.

This time in English history was a time of strife, dissention, revolution and bloodshed. Upheavals caused by a Civil War, the Commonwealth, the Restoration, the struggles between King and Parliament disrupted the whole country. Along with these were religious bitterness, and persecution by Puritans and Anglicans, wars in Europe and through it all "the common man went about his simple daily affairs ruled by the customs and laws of his time, by events at home and abroad, some of them little known to him and less understood."

The common man was sharply aware of the dangers to himself and his possessions. He was beginning to feel the stirring of freedom; to realize he could stand up among his fellows and think of himself as an individual and not a slave, with a growing conviction that he should have some say in the ordering of affairs of state. Thoughtful men, weary of strife, were catching a vision of a society in which bitterness and hate, lawlessness and squalor was no longer accepted as the normal condition of life, a society in which education would not only be for the privileged few, and where men could associate with each other without mutual distrust. Such thoughts were in the minds of honest men, and some of them I feel found a refuge in Masonry. We know that this movement attracted men of diverse interests and opinions. Royalist and Parliament men, scholars, antiquarians, merchants, and skilled craftsmen met as equals in Lodges at a time when divisions of classes were rigidly fixed.

Surely, it would not be unreasonable to think that some would turn to this association of masons, who, out of their long traditions of noble achievement and mutual dependence, provided an atmosphere of helpful friendliness. Here they could close the doors against bitterness and suspicion, and in this retreat forget that they were divided by their religious and political rivalries. Not that these brethren had any prepared plan for the reformation of society, rather they looked for something that would lift them above the intolerances of religion and politics, so that each could see in his fellow man not someone to hate and quarrel with, but one with whom he could share a feeling of friendly trust. If there was any truth in such speculations it could give us a hint of what men hoped to find in Masonry.

We, of course, feel that we have advanced far in overcoming the ignorance and narrowness of the 17th century. However, are there not today conditions of life in which we just as surely need a place of quiet harmony to moderate the stresses of present-day living? We are still not free from bigotry and mistrust. There are still tyranny and injustice in the world. Fears and anxieties surrounded us. Fierce competition drains our energies. Thoughtful men need some influence that will help them, not to forget, but to recognize such conditions as imperfections and to catch a clearer vision of what man ought to be.

Our ancient brethren had no thought of using their Masonic associations to remake the world about them. We, too, do not set forth any plans for the reformation of society. Rather, we try to renew man's faith in his fellow man, and in the atmosphere of forbearance and mutual trust, come to see "how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." The Lodge, then, shall be a center of L.I.G.H.T. from which men go forth with a sense of rededication to the ideals of societal justice.

STATED MEETING

We had a nice surprise when members from Acacia Lodge #42 came down for our stated meeting on June 10th. We had an awesome dinner of pulled pork, macaroni and cheese, and green beans prepared by Brother DJ Arps beforehand, which was a HUGE hit!

After a year of COVID and no travels, we were finally able to have our Official Visit of RW Randy Jager! Many of our brothers were able to come for dinner, as well as several visitors. Brother Mike and his family cooked up a home-cooked meal of meatloaf, mashed potatoes, and green beans! It was a huge hit with the brothers, especially Brother Randy as that is one of his favorite meals. Our Easter Star Sisters and Brothers came out to lend a hand and join in the celebration.

On May 15th, several Brothers headed to Kingman for the Hualapai Outdoor Degree. It was a great visit and it was especially nice for us "Yumans" to get out of the heat!

California Grand Lodge finally opened up lodges in the state, so a few of our Yuma Brothers went to Imperial Lodge for their first stated meeting in over a year. The Imperial Brothers have been visiting our Lodge when we opened, so we returned the favor!

A DOSE OF MASONIC EDUCATION

Freemasons can be found throughout the fabric of America. This is most evident in the founding of our country. Did you know:

- Of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence, nine were known to be members of a Masonic Lodge:
- William Ellery, member of the First Lodge of Boston
- Benjamin Franklin, member of St. John's Lodge, Philadelphia, PA; Grand Master of Pennsylvania, 1734
- John Hancock, member of Merchants Lodge #277, Quebec; affiliated with St. Andrews Lodge, Boston, MA
- Joseph Hewes, member Unanimity Lodge #7
- William Hooper, member of Hanover Lodge, Masonborough, NC
- Robert Treat Paine, member of a Massachusetts Lodge, but now record of which Lodge he was affiliated with; attended Massachusetts Grand Lodge in 1759
- Richard Stockton, charter member and First Master of St. John's Lodge, Princeton, NJ
- George Walton, member of Solomon's Lodge #1, Savannah, GA
- William Whipple, member of St. John's Lodge, Portsmouth, NH

Of the 39 signers of the U.S. Constitution, 13 were known to be members of a Masonic Lodge:

- Gunning Bedford, Jr., First Grand Master of Delaware
- John Blair, First Grand Master of Virginia
- David Brearley, First Grand Master of New Jersey
- Jacob Broom, member of Lodge #14, Christina Ferry, DE
- Daniel Carroll, participated in the Masonic cornerstone laying of the U.S. Capitol
- Jonathan Dayton, member of Temple Lodge #1, Elizabethtown, NJ
- John Dickinson, member of a Lodge in Dover, DE
- Benjamin Franklin, member of St. John's Lodge, Philadelphia, PA; Grand Master of Pennsylvania, 1734
- Nicholas Gilman, member of St. John's Lodge, Portsmouth, NH
- Rufus King, member of St. John's Lodge, Newburyport, MA
- James McHenry, member of Spiritual Lodge #23, Maryland
- William Paterson, member of Trenton Lodge #5, Trenton, NJ
- George Washington, raised in Fredericksburg Lodge #4, Fredericksburg, VA; named but did not actively serve as Charter Master of Alexandria Lodge #22, Alexandria, VA

Many more were thought to be Freemasons, but there is no concrete evidence to date.

STAR IN THE EAST Submitted by B.J. Dale, Associate Matron (Linda Gillis, Worthy Matron)

Greetings Everyone. We hope this finds everyone doing well and continuing to get back to some type of normal and getting back to a routine. We held our last term meeting after two years under Worthy Matron Carolyn Simson and Worthy Patron Michael Dale on May 25th and then held our installation of new officers immediately following. We are looking forward to our next term under the leadership of our new Worthy Matron, Linda Gillis and Worthy Patron, David Gillis. We would also like to congratulate our Associate Matron, B.J. Dale, Associate Patron, Michael Dale, Conductress, Sabrina Arps, Associate Conductress, Veronica Ann Reece, and all of our newly installed officers.

We finished out our term with our Mother's Day Flower Delivery, which we always enjoy. As always, we would like to thank our awesome members and volunteer drivers who always enjoy putting a smile on some special faces.

We were working on another special project, in correlation with the Most Worthy Grand Matron Marianne Shenefelt's service project. General Grand Chapter has recently come out stating that General Grand Chapter is making service dogs one of their primary, permanent projects. Our Chapter collected Cinch Sacs filled with gift cards, dog treats, feeding bowls, and grooming tools and presented these Sacs to the Power Paws Assistance Dogs in Scottsdale. These Sacs will go to new owners when they receive their service dogs. It was a wonderful experience working with this organization and we were able to learn so much more about them when we toured their facility. They recently received the Crime Victims Legacy Award for their work with the K9 Victim Support Program. We hope to continue to work with this Organization.

STAR IN THE EAST (CONTINUED) Submitted by B.J. Dale, Associate Matron (Linda Gillis, Worthy Matron)

Since things finally opened up a bit more, our Chapter was also able to participate in the 7th Annual Wii Bowling tournament after having to take a year off due to COVID. The tournament is sponsored by Sunnyslope Chapter #47 in partnership with, and held at, Peoria Chapter #59 in Sun City. Yuma had two teams represent the Chapter. The Bearded Ladies (DJ Arps, Sabrina Arps, Brittney Dale, and Alyssa Urias), who came in 3rd place in the 2019 tournament, brought home the 2nd place trophies this year and are hoping to bring home the 1st place trophy next year. Our second team (B.J. Dale, Michael Dale, and JC and Veronica Ann Reece) did not place in the top three, but had an enjoyable day spending time with our sisters and brothers around the state.

We would also like to congratulate our very own Michael Dale who was elected at this year's Arizona Grand Communications to Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Arizona. We wish you well on your journey in the Grand Line.

Upcoming Birthdays:

- JULY: BJ Dale (7/9), Carolyn Simson (7/12), Johnny Bowden and Mary Godfrey (7/17), Lou Strahm (7/31)
- AUGUST: David Gillis (8/3)

Until next time, please keep all of our ailing members in your thoughts and prayers. If you know someone who isn't feeling well, would appreciate a phone call or card, or may need assistance running errands, please call Linda Gillis (Worthy Matron) at (928) 580–4403 (or any Chapter member) to let her know. We miss seeing all of you and we hope to see everyone's smiling faces when we start back up one the 4th Tuesday in September. Take care and be safe!

YUMA CHAPTER NO. 14, ORDER of the EASTERN STAR

The meetings are held the SECOND AND FOURTH TUESDAY of each month, September through June. All members are welcome. Our Worthy Matron plans to restart dinners and refreshments when we return in September. Meeting begins promptly at 7pm. Hope to see you there. If you have questions please call the Lodge at (928) 783–7993.

PUBLISHER'S CORNER

Being able to attend Grand Communications is one of the highlights of being a "Mason's Lady". Seeing the fellowship and brotherhood, as well as spending time with the other ladies, gives a whole new meaning to "family". This year's Grand Communications felt very special, although it could be because we were away from each other for so long! Thankfully more Lodges are opening their doors and we will be able to see each other more often in person, instead of over video calls!

If there is anything you would like to see in the Trestleboard or have any suggestions, please feel free to let me know! If you see any corrections that need to be addressed, please let me know those as well so they can be corrected. If you attend an event, don't forget to take pictures and submit them, either to me or on Facebook. Take care and stay safe!
